Fine Painting Receives Top Contractor Safety Award

Portland, OR – Fine Painting and Allied Services, LLC, a regional industrial painting and waterproofing contractor, was honored with the Contractor of The Year Safety Award by the Joint Safety Committee of the Signatory Painting Contractors Organization (SPCO) and the International Union of Painters and Allied Trades (IUPAT) District Council 5.

Fine Painting was chosen for this top work-place safety award from among Oregon and southwest Washington union painting and coatings contractors. The award is based on overall safety record and participation in safety committee meetings. The award also recognizes company-wide safety program innovations such as Fine Painting's Safe Worker Program that rewards individuals with excellent safety records and proper attitude.

“The Fine Painting team was immensely pleased to receive the Contractor of the Year Safety Award.” According to Raymond Clevenger, Executive Manager of the company. “Our team embraced a culture of safety many years ago and has pressed on toward a path of working with safety in the absolute forefront of every decision that we make. Our culture thrives because we work with only the best contractors in the market who also embrace our same commitment to a culture of safety.”

Fine Painting has more than 25 years experience in industrial painting and waterproofing and has National Association of Corrosion Engineers (NACE) inspectors on staff. The company employs a full time Safety Director. The company also specializes in the application of intumescent fire proofing coatings, maintenance painting, chemical resistant flooring, tank linings, waterproofing, environmental hazard analysis and lead abatement.

The Signatory Painting Contractors Organization (SPCO) is an association of commercial and industrial paint and coatings contractors who employ union labor. The organization has members throughout Oregon and southwest Washington. The SPCO has been recognized for its emphasis on contractor safety and is a past recipient of the Governor's Occupational Safety and Health (GOSH) Award for an Association.
